Women of Color Conference Magazine | Technology Awards Issue, October 2004

---

Do you know a high-achieving woman in technology? If so, we want to know!

In the October 2004 issue of Women of Color Conference Magazine, we will honor two groups of role models we call the Technology All-stars and the Rising Stars of Technology. These women also will headline a special event at the ninth annual National Women of Color Technology Awards Conference, in October.

We are accepting candidates now!

Technology All-stars are accomplished women of color at an advanced stage of their careers, who have demonstrated excellence as leaders at work and in their communities.

Rising Stars are minority women under age 30 who are outstanding performers in helping shape technology for the future.

Complete the attached form and send us your nominees for the annual Technology All-stars and Rising Stars of Technology articles by August 6, 2004. Please include a color photo and a short bio of your candidates. A copy of our photo guidelines also is attached.

Call your Women of Color account executive today for more information!
